Cotestville, Pa. Record: "It's no doubt tough for Congressmen to live in Washington, with taxes and prices what they are. Perhaps it was natural that they should vote some tax relief for themselves. But what about the folks back home who do not have $15,000 plus jobs? How do the Congressmen believe the folks with three, four or five thousands dollars before taxes make ends meet? It is claimed by statisticians that each of us is now paying $477 annually on Federal taxes alone. This means a total of $1,000 for a family of four! Does Congress look upon these people as deserving of relief from their tax burden?"

Thursday, July 31

This is the day which the Lord hath made; we will rejoice and be glad in it. (Psalm 118:24) Read Psalm 118:24-25 or I Thessalonians 5:16-18.

LAST night it rained. Then the stars looked down upon an earth sweet, clean and glistening. And saw, as did God, that it was very good. Before long God drew aside the curtains of night. Day dawned, and the rays of the sun poured a glory upon the land, the sea, the sky. Soon God gave the day to man and said, "Be glad and be glad in it." But man was selfish, sinful, unthankful for it. He took the God-given day, misused it, polluted it. At twilight the sun gathered up the remaining glory of the day and said:

Behind the western horizon. Night dropped her mantle over the world. As the Creator-Father declared out of love, "I will give mankind another good day tomorrow." But the wicked men, blind to God, saw No glory of God in the air, the earth, or the sun. Only the lovers of God, the Christ-like in heart, humbled themselves in reverence that day.

Prayer
Our gracious God and Father, we thank Thee for each new day and the privilege of living. Lead us by Thy Holy Spirit to make the highest and holiest use of every day in work and in worship. Glorify Thyself in us, through Christ, Amen.
Thought For The Day
That day is lost which is not lived for God. —Herbert B. Johnson (North Carolina)

OUR DEMOCRACY—by Met

"EVERYBODY TALKS ABOUT THE WEATHER—BUT NOBODY DOES ANYTHING ABOUT IT."

—AN OLD SAYING, CURRENT IN OUR FATHERS' TIME, THAT NEVER REALLY STOOD UP THEN—WHAT WITH UMBRELLAS, SUNSHADES AND SUCH, IT STANDS UP EVEN LESS TODAY.

TAKE THE FARMER, FOR EXAMPLE—MORE DEPENDENT ON THE WEATHER THAN MOST. HE NOW HAS DROUGHT-RESISTANT CORN AND GRAINS—AND IS EVEN EXPERIMENTING WITH HAVING CANS OF HIS POT AND PEST RESISTANT PLANTS AND IS DEVELOPING WAYS OF MAKING HAY WITHOUT SUNSHINE. THUS HE CAN PROTECT HIMSELF AGAINST SOME OF THE PRINCIPAL WEATHER RISKS—JUST AS THE AMERICAN FAMILY TODAY, THROUGH LIFE INSURANCE AND SAVINGS, CAN PROTECT ITSELF AGAINST SOME OF THE HAZARDS OF THE FUTURE.

CROSS SCORES OPPONENTS—

ALL FORMER REPUBLICANS
Reference to "these three fugitives from the Republican Party" was made at Litchfield on Saturday evening by Senator Barton M. Cross, Republican Party nominee for Governor, in a talk before the Council of Young Republicans.

Although he did not call any of his opponents in the September election by name, Senator Cross said "It is interesting to note that all three of my opponents are former Republicans, men who have had much from the Republican party and the voters of Maine and who have forgotten or disavowed the deep and abiding faith in the principles of our party."

"Such men," Senator Cross continued, "in bolting the Republican party have forfeited any loyalty from its members." He paid high tribute to the large majority of Republicans for their "good sportsmanship and loyalty" in pledging support to the successful party nominee in the June primary.

He specifically cited Senator Owen Brewster saying, "We say Senator Brewster step forward in defeat and pledge his utmost assistance to further the interests of the people of Maine. Any man who lacks these qualities of submerging selfish personal desires for the good of the people does not deserve support from any individual voter for it shows a basic weakness that could be fatal."

Terminating this "a year of decision for the Republican party," Senator Cross pledged himself squarely behind the team of Eisenhower and Nixon in fighting "crime, corruption, and Communism."

Saying he would campaign as July 29, 1952, the spokesman for the Republican Bethel, Maine party, Senator Cross reminded his listeners of Maine's enviable financial position under a Republican fiscal policy. He pointed out that Maine, under this policy, had never resorted to deficit financing as had the federal government.

"We have seen on the national scene a disgraceful administration, steeped with crime and corruption throughout the years, engaged in attempting to cover up and whitewash." The nominee called that only a few months ago in Maine, a Republican Governor, Republican Attorney-General, and Republican Legislature "stepped forthrightly into the crusade against crime which was conducted against outside gambling interests." Many indictments were returned; convictions were secured, and over $60,000 in fines was collected.

Senator Cross pledged that if elected Governor he would not tolerate "whitewash on any situation, regardless of the consequences." "I assure you that if elected I shall never allow suppression of facts; that I shall always account to you, the people of this state. This has been my record of forthrightness through a long legislative career and any allegations to the contrary are a complete and utter distortion of the record made for selfish purposes," the Republican gubernatorial candidate declared.

NOTICE
This is to certify that I have this day given my son, Floyd T. Kimball, Jr., his time during the remainder of his minority and that I shall not pay any bills of his contracting nor claim any of his wages.

Guidance at Hand

MANY events recorded in the Scriptures show that those who love righteousness and seek the guidance of God, divine Mind, receive from Him wisdom and intelligence that lead to achievement. When thought is humble and receptive, God's angels—spiritual intuitions—can be depended upon to instruct one. The Bible assures us (Isaiah 30: 21), "Thine ears shall hear a word behind thee, saying, This is the way, walk ye in it."

But the thought full of error neither listens for nor hears God's voice. To one who is proud, willful, and egotistical, the right or better way may even seem wrong. In "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, writes (p. 106), "God has endowed man with inalienable rights, among which are self-government, reason, and conscience." Then she adds the significant statement, "Man is properly self-governed only when he is guided rightly and governed by his Maker, divine Truth and Love." True self-government expresses the will of God and is never synonymous with self-will.

The sixteenth chapter of Matthew speaks of instructions that Christ Jesus gave his disciples during which he foretold his crucifixion and resurrection. Impetuous Peter protested, feeling certain, no doubt, that there was no justifiable reason why one so good should submit to such an ordeal. But the selfless Saviour rebuked the uncomprehending thought, saying (verse 23), "Get thee behind me, Satan; thou art an offence unto me; for thou savourest not the things that be of God, but those that be of men." Strong personal feeling would have had the Way-shower stop short of the fulfillment of his great mission.

We are called upon continually to make decisions. Both experience and observation show the danger of allowing one's thought to become clouded by strong personal or partisan feelings, which tend to shut out the impartiality of Mind. Thought must be free from narrow opinions and hampering prejudices in order to be able to receive right intuitions. Thinking must be calm and intelligent in order that wise and just decisions may be reached. . . . God created man in His own image and likeness; hence man reflects the qualities of God. God is supreme wisdom and intelligence; hence there is no limit to man's reflected ability to manifest these spiritual qualities. These great facts are not affected in the least by differences in race, nationality, or language, or by finite concepts of time and space. It is infinite Mind's individual expression, not matter, which identifies the real man. . . .

The great need of mankind is to know God, Jesus' understanding of God enabled him to accomplish the marvelous good that accrued through his ability to demonstrate God's presence and power was exclusively his own. On the contrary, his assurance was (John 14:23), "He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do because I go unto my Father." Jesus looked always to his Father, divine Mind, for the spiritual understanding and guidance that enabled him to go from achievement to achievement and to provide an everlasting example of man's ability to express the true nature of God. —The Christian Science Monitor.

FOOT-AND-MOUTH DISEASE

LABORATORY HEARINGS HELD

Dean of Agriculture Arthur L. Deering of the University of Maine served on a three-man board which heard testimony at a recent series of public hearings on the establishment of a laboratory for the investigation of foot-and-mouth disease at Plum Island, New York.

He reports that the decision on the location of the laboratory will be made by Secretary of Agriculture Charles Brannan after consideration of the testimony which was submitted to him after the hearings. With only three large counties in the world free of foot-and-mouth disease (Australia, New Zealand and the United States), Dean Deering says nearly every one agrees that the lab should be set up soon. Congress appropriated $10,000,000.

WORTH REPEATING
Aurika, Oula, News-Democrat—We will have taken just about the last step to socialism when we turn the schools over to the Federal government. The first appropriations might be with few strings, but gradually the powers at Washington would take over, telling the schools what to teach, how much to pay where to build schools. . . .

Size of City Does Not Decide Family Income
Special studies made by the U.S. Bureau of the Census on the population characteristics of the nation's leading metropolitan areas and their variations in family income provide a significant commentary on the broad distribution of opportunity existing in the nation today.

These figures show that the size of a city does not necessarily determine the size of the income of the average family living there, and that many a smaller city is apt to offer equal or better chances for financial advancement on the average than the big ones.

For example, the New York-Northeastern New Jersey metropolitan area is by far the largest in the nation on a population basis. However, it ranked 15th in median family income in 1947, the year for which the Bureau of the Census figures were compiled, and it was outranked by a number of very much smaller metropolitan areas such as Hartford, Rochester and Dayton. As a matter of fact, five of the nation's Big Ten metropolitan centers—Los Angeles, Philadelphia, Boston, Pittsburgh and St. Louis—were well down on the list.

The No. 1 city in median family income was Washington, with half the families in the nation's capital having incomes of $11,130 or more in 1947. Washington currently ranks 10th in population among the metropolitan areas. Its high level of family income largely reflects the great growth of the Federal Government over the last two decades.

Two of the nation's largest cities, Detroit and Chicago, were in second and third position in median family income ranking, Detroit with $10,990 and Chicago with $10,531. The next two, however, Cleveland and Milwaukee, are not among the 10 biggest metropolitan areas, and No. 6 on the median family income list is Hartford, which the last census ranked in 47th place among metropolitan areas on a population basis.

BETHEL CONTINUES LOSING: RUMFORD PT. IS VICTOR, 8-2

George Barker allowed the Bethel A. C. only four hits and a pair of runs at Thurston Field last Thursday evening, July 24. In the meantime the Point's hitters were collecting a total of 15 hits from the slants of Herbie Adams and Bob Baker.

Bartlett, Barker and Colby each produced three hits for the victors, Gallant got two, and Robbins, Elliott, Burns, and Lamson got one each.

Cad Bennett's home run behind a base on balls to Brown produced the only Bethel tally of the contest. Barker, Brown and Andy Witter secured singles of Barker's pitching.

Permanent Waves
Ordinary water doesn't cause a permanent wave in hair, the way a permanent waving solution does. Although ordinary water affects the hair, it does not change the arrangement of the molecules in it, and therefore effects no permanent curling. For home permanents two solutions are used. The first is a chemical that loosens some of the linkages between the hair molecules and this permits the fibers to be curled. Then the second solution is applied, to neutralize the first. It allows the linkages to form again and thus makes permanent the new arrangement.

By LYNN CONNELLY

WELL, fans finally got a look at Bing Crosby on television recently when he and Bob Hope combined talents and efforts in a 14 1/2 hour telethon to raise funds for the Olympic teams. . . . We can only go along with the others in saying that Bing is perhaps the greatest TV natural to come along since Godfrey. . . . The wildest enthusiasm heralding his debut wouldn't be overdone. . . . The man is all showman, quick-witted, talented (this is not news, of course) and easygoing.

When he and Hope can team up and read just pages of contributions for hours and make it entertaining, that's showmanship! In addition, there was a lot of wonderful entertainment by such luminaries as their sidekick, Dorothy Lamour, who, incidentally, stayed up through the whole 14 1/2 hours with them and the three of them looked just as fresh at the end as they did when they started. . . .

Highlights were—probably the half-hour of lunacy contributed by Martin and Lewis and the priceless trio comprised of Hope, Crosby and Plinza singing "Doodle-Dee-Dee" . . . Just hope now that Crosby will consent to having his own show this fall for he is sadly needed by a medium floundering for talent.

COLUMBIA:—Doris Day has a good disc to follow her sensational "Guy Is a Guy" . . . It's "Take Me to Your Arms" backed by "When I Fall in Love" . . . Quite a change of pace for madam after her "Guy" hit, but the nice thing about Doris is that she is versatile and can sing a novelty or ballad equally well. . . . Toni Arden does a super job on the new "Take My Heart," a tune headed for the big time. . . . "Tell Your Tale, Nightingale" is on the flip side. . . . Arthur Godfrey keeps rolling with two cuties, "Bodybody" and "Can You Whistle, Johanna?"

WOUNDED . . . Pauline Weldt, wounded when a prisoner tried to escape from Bronx, N.Y., magistrate's court, is shown with spent bullet in her chest.
